Strong Arm in Enforcing Demands.Denial Made of Fighting in Mexico City Between Carranza and Obregon ForcesConsular Agent Must be Released Without Undue DelayNew Note Expected to Follow
On Heels of Another Murder

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, November 29.—Although denial from Mexico City of the reported fighting between followers of President Carranza and General Obregon, presidential candidate, served to ease the tenseness of the relations between Mexico and the United States, the State Department today had not altered its determination to enforce the demand for the prompt release of American Consular Agent Jenkins.

On top of the already delicate Mexican situation was the report of the murder of another American, W. M. Wallace, oil man, who was shot down by a Carranza soldier.

This, combined with the Jenkins case, was expected to spur the State Department to strong diplomatic action against the Carranza government, which has been warned repeatedly against mistreatment of American citizens.

Mexico probably will be called upon for a showdown, once and for all, if the repeated killing of American citizens continues, and the American consular agent remains confined in prison on what American officials believe are trumped up charges.

MEDIATION MAY BE OFFERED BY A.B.C. NATIONS

(By Associated Press.)

Santiago, Chile, November 29.—The Nation today says it has learned from well informed diplomatic circles that there is a possibility of mediation by the governments in the A. B. C. group (Argentina, Brazil and Chile), with the object of composing the difficulties that have arisen between the United States and Mexico over the case of Consul Jenkins.

GRID DEATHS
GROWING LESS

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, November 29.—Football, the roughest of American outdoor sports, claimed only five victims during the 1919 season, according to the Associated Press today.

The number of deaths—the lowest in years, was five less than in 1918 and seven under the toll of two years ago.

Development of the open style of play is mainly responsible for the decreasing number of fatalities in the opinion of football experts.

2,000 RAILROAD
EMPLOYEES TIE
UP ALL TRAFFICKansas City is Scene of Local Strike of Much MagnitudeRadical Element is Believed Responsible

(By Associated Press.)

Kansas City, November 29.—Two thousand railroad trainmen and yard men of Kansas City are to go on a strike at four o'clock according to an announcement by local Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen officials.

All of the railroads entering Kansas City will be affected with possible exception of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific.

The strike vote was taken early today. The government railway representative was doing all he could to keep the terminal men from striking.

It was said the strike order resulted from local grievances and it was hinted a radical element was responsible. Union officials said the national issue of the railroad situation being discussed at Cleveland had no part in the strike.

A strike of trainmen will tie up coal shipments to the greater part of the southwest.

New York, November 29.—Forty-five thousand pilgrims from North, South, East and West fought their way into the Polo grounds today to see the Army and Navy clash on the gridiron for the first time since the United States entered the world war.

High government officials, including Secretary of War Baker, General Pershing and Secretary Daniels were present.

A light rain, which had kept up, continued during the game. The score at the end of the first half was: Army 0, Navy 3.

MONDAY TO BRING TEST
IN MININGNo Increased Production Anticipated Immediately But May Come Soon.Production Further Reduced In West Virginia When More Miners Quit.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, November 29.—Immediate results in increased production of soft coal were not expected today to follow the announcement that the government proposes to see mining begin, and posting at the mines by the operators of notice of the granting of a 14 percent wage increase.

Operators looked upon the latest steps in the miners' strike with optimism and believed on Monday many workmen would re-enter the mines.

On the other hand miners spokesmen generally predicted that few men would return to work under those conditions, adding that the offer would be ignored especially in the great fields of the central competitive area embracing Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania.

Milder weather today brought relief. Many smaller cities and towns were almost fuelless and suffering was imminent.

With radical restrictions in force in many places, including the entire southern region, state and local officials today considered further means of warding off famine. In Kansas Governor Allen went ahead with plans for opening Kansas mines Monday. He said 4,000 men had volunteered.

New walkouts in the West Virginia fields have come, threatening to reduce the 40 percent of a normal amount the government said has continued to be brought out in all states. At various points today there were reports that train service was to be reduced but they lacked confirmation.

MORE "RELIEF"
IN SUGAR FAMINE

Columbus, O., November 29.—Howard Piggis, United States deputy attorney general in charge of the sugar situation, yesterday at Washington said that in his opinion, the shortage in Ohio will be "greatly relieved" within a few days.

He had just talked over the telephone with beet sugar manufacturers in Michigan. "They told me," said he, "that they are now making rapid shipments. There is no tendency among the producers now to hold back their sugar."

Railroad Director General Hines notified Piggis that the regional director has been instructed to put into effect orders which should aid materially in bringing sugar within the reach of Ohio consumers quickly.

Samples of sugar sold as cane yesterday by Columbus grocers at 20 and 21 cents a pound will be sent to Cincinnati to be analyzed by federal chemists.

Brokers report the recent arrival in Columbus of several carloads of Louisiana cane sugar. Housewives asked yesterday to pay 20 and 21 cents a pound for it complained to federal officials. The proposed analysis is the outcome of these complaints.

Following a jealous quarrel he yesterday went to her home to bid her a final goodbye before leaving for Wheeling, W. Va.

Physicians today said it was too early to say whether the operation would save the woman's life.

Operators Accepting Increase Allowed And Preparing To Re-Open Their Mines.Government Has Soldiers Ready To Aid in Keeping Mines In Operation.Ohio Operators Will Put New Wage Scale in Force at Once

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, November 29.—The battle ground of the conflict over a new wage scale in the bituminous coal industry today shifted to the various fields in all sections of the country.

Operators returning home to attempt to reopen their mines, and ready to pay the fourteen per cent wage advance suggested by Fuel Administrator Garfield, received the assurance of the government that troops were ready to protect from violence any miners wishing to return to work.

At the same time, notice was served that the failure of operators to cooperate with the government would result in federal control of the properties.

Operators in western Pennsylvania, which is a part of the central competitive field, will meet the Pennsylvania governor Monday to discuss plans for protecting miners wishing to return to work.

Those in close touch with the situation regard this as the first indication of an attempt to break the strike in the highly organized fields.

It was expected that general plans for all four states included in this field would be discussed when the operators' wage scale committee reconvenes here next Wednesday.

The State Department's formal reply to the Carranza message may be delayed several days pending accumulation of verified facts dealing with the Jenkins case and others.

When the reply is framed it is expected to contain more than a mere request and the government will be prepared to support its demands to the limit.

Eight Americans have been killed in Mexico within a few months.

OHIO OPERATORS
TO PAY INCREASE

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., November 29.—Walter McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, an organization of Ohio coal operators, today sent out notices to practically all Ohio soft coal mines that the increase of fourteen percent proposed by the government would become effective at once.

He said that it could not be determined until Tuesday how many striking coal miners would return to work under the increased wage scale.

GEN. PERSHING MAY STOP HERE DECEMBER 17

If plans of the Fayette War Work
Council meet with success, General John J. Pershing may be induced to stop in this city for a short time probably on December 17, when he is expected to pass through this city, probably by automobile.

Learning that there was a likelihood of the famous military leader stopping here, Chairman M. S. Daugherty started proceedings to ascertain if General Pershing could be stopped here for a short time for a brief address and reception.

Every town along the route of Gen.
Pershing's swing through Ohio is anxious to have him stop for a brief period, but when attention of the General is called to the fact that in point of numbers enlisted Fayette's casualties were probably heavier than any other county in Ohio, he will show recognition of the sacrifice, if it is possible to change his plans to do so.

It is believed that if Gen. Pershing stops in this city the event will draw 10,000 to 15,000 people here, as everyone in this part of Ohio will want to get a glimpse of the famous leader of the American Army in Mexico and Europe, and hear him speak.

BUSINESS SUCCESS AND HEALTH

Mr. "Successful Business Man." This is a heart-to-heart talk with you. You will probably say, "Oh, I have no time to listen to any talk from you; I am too much occupied with my business affairs. In these strenuous days they occupy all my time."

That may be true, but if we come to you and prove to you how you could increase your business output One Hundred Per Cent you would greet us with the "glad hand," would pass out the cigars and would give us as much time as we needed.

How our proposition is essentially a "Business" Proposition. We can show you just how you can increase your business efficiency, and if you increase your efficiency you are bound to increase your business output.

You may think that you are in word and truth a "Successful Business Man," when as a matter of fact you are a lame-able failure. Successful as regards raking in the "Almighty Dollar," we grant that, but what about your Health? If you are not the possessor of Health how long is this much wanted success of yours going to last?

Now for a pertinent question.

DO YOU HANDLE YOUR BODY AS CAREFULLY AS YOU WOULD A BUSINESS PROPOSITION? I. e., IN A COMMON SENSE WAY? You must be Healthy, for in this turmoil of the modern business world you must suffer, you must endure, you must stand up under stress and hardship and disappointment.

You may be passably Healthy, but you KNOW you are not a One-Hundred-Per-Cent man in regard to Health. You get tired easier than you did ten years ago; every once in a while you have a sick headache; La Grippe gets you in its clutches periodically, while occasionally you have a touch of "Hay Fever." All these things tend to lower your Business Efficiency, and you know it, although you have heretofore done nothing in the way of prevention.

Now for once use a little Common Sense, throw all prejudice to the winds and at the first opportunity call on your local Chiropractors, get them to palpate your spine and find out just where you stand.

If you need Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments they will tell you so; place yourself unreservedly in their hands and you will enjoy Health.

Your Business Efficiency will be increased and Success will always be yours. Isn't it worth trying?

And again, don't be selfish about it. Pay a little attention to the wife and kiddies. Take or send them to your Chiropractors and in time everything that the average man craves, i. e., Health, Happiness and Success, will be yours.

The Pacific's Storm

While we folks in this section of the country have been enjoying unusual favors, in exceptionally pleasant weather conditions, from generous Nature, some other sections of the country have not fared so well.

Out in the far northwest on the great plains they have had some severe winter weather, even for that region where the folks are accustomed to real wintry blasts.

In sunny California, that golden western slope of the great mountain range which faces the Pacific, some very real winter weather has been reported. Los Angeles experienced some few snow flurries on Thanksgiving day and farther up state, in the higher, more mountainous section, the heavy storm which came in from up Bering Sea way beat out its fury against the great walls of rock and sand which act as the storm screen for the west.

Only in the higher peaks did the great storm wear itself out in sullen arctic rage. In San Francisco's harbor the lower currents of the storm did some considerable damage to shipping.

Some particularly insistent fragments of the storm succeeded in crossing the mountain peaks and joining forces with the newly forming currents east of the mountain ranges and swept on toward Denver and the Missouri and Mississippi valleys, leaving zero weather and heavy blankets of snow in their wake.

It's wonderful when we think about it, how that rough old range of mountains holds back those wintry hurricanes which sweep out of the Arctic Circle through Bering Strait in a mad dash to get into this country only to be turned back by the mountains and sent on their way to the southern seas and neutralized by the endless warm currents which lazily float above the placid old ocean.

An Aroused Patriotism.

Governor Cox's Thanksgiving proclamation is a direct and a forceful appeal to the patriotism of the people and at the same time a promise that the dark clouds of unrest and disorder will soon pass away.

It is a proclamation of facts, a pointing of the path of duty and a promise which should be recalled many times.

The Governor says that as soon as our patriotism is aroused all these troubles will give way before it. We believe that he is right, but we believe just as firmly that it is high time that the vigilant patriotism of the American people should be aroused. We believe also that our troubles will not only not pass away but that they will multiply in number and increase in extent until we are more vigilantly and actively patriotic.

It is not enough for good citizens to demean themselves loyally, to do no disloyal deed, to have no disloyal thoughts. Passive patriotism is not enough.

We must see to it that others are patriotic. If any others are not true patriots we must seek them out, point them out, no matter what form their disloyalty may assume, do our full duty, whether it effect friend or foe, and bring them to justice. The patriotic impulses of the nation must be aroused and active. It is no time for idlers and idle patriots are the most dangerous now of all slugs.

Nothing Done

Laboring all of Thanksgiving day in a long conference in what has, thus far, proved a useless endeavor to agree on wage and condition disputes the coal operators and coal miners conference came to an abrupt end.

Nothing, apparently, approaching a solution had been reached and, so far as the real effect on the public is concerned the coal miners' strike is just where it was when the miners quit work and announced their determination to work no more until their demands were met.

There have been sensational court proceedings and court decrees which promised much and which formed the basis for sensational announcements, official and unofficial. Days and weeks have passed and notwithstanding all that has been attempted, and done, the net result thus far is more conferences and a larger menace.

We now have the promise that the idle coal mines will be seized and operated by the government.

A great nation of people is weary of wrangling and waiting. They want action by their government.

Justice can be worked out as well, certainly, to the miners and operators with the mines in operation as with them idle.

POETRY FOR TODAY

NOVEMBER

There is a smell of Egypt in the air
Adeath-waft from cold dust of lotus blooms.

A weight of secrets from lone,
cryptic glooms

Of ruined sepulchers; and everywhere Wails immemorial sorrow. Wan and bare.

The earth today remembers all her tombs

As a pale mother dreams of empty rooms,

Blind to all joy, of all her loss aware—
And I, death-conscious knowing myself so small.

Have I not warrant with the world to weep?

What of the hopes I gave to Time to keep

Long, long ago? My days like dead leaves fall,

Leaving the scars—I smile in spite of all.

And stretch my hands to God across the deep.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

In a series of gay affairs with which a devoted circle of friends have been honoring Miss Helen Harper, one of the prettiest affairs and particularly apropos for the bonnie bride to be was a surprise shower at which Miss Ada Woodward and Miss Dorothy Fullerton were perfect hostesses at the Woodward home.

Flowers lent a radiant color note—a big basket of huge pink and white chrysanthemums in one of the double rooms and tall vase of mahogany and yellow chrysanthemums in the other, where were grouped with the honor guest twenty-two matrons and girls of the younger set.

The hostesses, with the facile originality and thoughtfulness which is characteristic of them both, succeeded in making the shower the gayest of surprises, through which Miss Harper will find in her new home a number of beautiful and useful reminders of her close friends. The shower was introduced in a very happy way, Miss Fullerton inviting the girls to an improvised fish pond, and at the same time presenting to the bride-elect a fantastically decked fish pole and asking her, in a very clever bit of original verse, to show the girls, from her own experience, the most successful method of matrimonial fishing.

The guests gathered around and the first "catch" made by the bride to be was the signal for a merry hour, in which she fished out both beautiful gifts and amusing ones, all accompanied by original verses which added immensely to the fun. Several of the girls took advantage of the occasion to also present wedding gifts. A most delicious collation was served before the breaking up of the party.

Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Fullerton assisted their daughters in the entertaining.

Miss Harper was charming in a gown of navy blue soft satin, with trimming of applique point net and Valenciennes lace in toast shade, giving the new lingerie effect, and a pretty touch of color by old blue and French ribbon, with dainty French nosegay. It was made with short sleeves and long muskeeter gloves in the light beige shade.

Miss Woodward was wearing Old Blue broadcloth, with vest of cream lace, and Miss Fullerton a tailored gown of blue serge.

Welcomed from out of town among the guests were Mrs. Frank C. Reed, Ft. Thomas, Ky.; Mrs. Karl Reed, Cincinnati; Mrs. William Morgan Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Klever handsomely entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner at their home in Bloomingburg. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCoy, of Springfield; Misses Doris McCoy and Stella West. This is the thirty-fifth consecutive Thanksgiving dinner entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Klever, at which Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McCoy have been guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones celebrated in delightful fashion on Thanksgiving night their seventh wedding anniversary, which by fortunate coincidence, came this year on the national holiday.

It was a real "get together" party of old friends and the evening enjoyed in spontaneous sociability spiced with heartsome congratulations. Baskets of vari-colored chrysanthemums were effectively used in decoration and a luncheon of delicious courses served.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, daughter, Virginia, of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Borchert, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Briggs, of New Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beard, of Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sogars, of Good Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. John King extended the hospitality of their beautiful country home Thanksgiving at a delightful country dinner.

Of the forty-five members of Mrs. King's immediate family, including parents, children and grandchildren, all but four were present and the gathering was one of distinctive family interest.

All of the forty-one guests were served at once, the heads of the families seated at a long table, having a beautiful centerpiece of large lavender chrysanthemums sprayed with yellow button chrysanthemums, and the younger people served cafeteria fashion at small tables. Misses Lorie

King, Ruth Cockerill and Beota Haines assisted in the serving. An elaborate turkey dinner with all the trimmings, was followed by an afternoon of music and visiting.

The guests were Messrs. Walter, Elmer and Ernest Cockerill and their families of Greenfield; Mr. William Patton and family, Mr. Frank E. Haines and family, Mr. Luther Cockerill and family, Miss Daisy Cockerill, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nisley, Miss Laura Cockerill, of Columbus.

The Chi Delta Chi Club delightfully entertained Friday evening at the home of Miss Laura Brownell in compliment to Miss Eva Van Winkle, of Cincinnati who is Mrs. H. G. Coffman's guest, and Richard Haynes, recently returned from West Point.

The spacious home provided generous accommodation and Mrs. Herbert Brownell assisted her daughter in cordially extending its hospitality.

Dancing and cards, were the evening's chief diversions and tempting refreshments were served, as well as punch throughout the evening.

The Chi Delta's and their escorts included: Misses Helen Baker, Eleanor Jones, Mary Hanna Bliss, Helen McKee, Elizabeth McDonald, Helen Durant, Ruth Brown, Charlene Tharp, Marjorie Klever and Dorothy Dick; Thomas Rogers, David Craig, Grove Davis, Willis Willis, Walter Weaver, Richard Willis, Joseph Wilson, Robert Reardon, Jesse Hagler, Charles Fabb, Hiram Hitchcock.

E. parsonage, Miss Jeanette Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, and Mr. Egbert Paul Lindsay, of Norwood.

There were no attendants. The bride, a pretty blonde, was wearing a tailored suit of navy blue serge, with blue chiffon blouse and hat ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip, their future plans not yet settled. The bride-groom is a travelling salesman. Good wishes galore are following the young couple. The bride is a niece of Mrs. J. M. Boyd, of this city.

In compliment to an attractive group of Ohio Wesleyan Co-eds, Miss Ruth Knickerbocker, of Barborton, Miss Eleanor McClain's guest, Misses Floy Griffin, of Bloomfield and Ruth Crawford, of Warren, Miss Marion Christopher's guests, Miss McClain entertained with a tea of charming appointments, Friday afternoon.

Miss Eva Van Winkle, of Cincinnati, was also an honor guest.

Eighteen young girls responded to invitations and enjoyed the opportunity of meeting the honor guests, as well as the cordial hospitality of the McClain home.

Miss McClain was looking pretty in fancy georgette blouse with tailored skirt. Miss Knickerbocker was wearing blue serge with silk braid trimming; Miss Griffin, navy blue crepe meteor with relief of white satin; Miss Crawford navy blue taffeta; and Miss Van Winkle taupe tricotlette.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned the table, and a dainty refecton was served.

Mrs. William McClain and Miss Marcella Griffith assisted.

Among the enjoyable turkey dinners of the Thanksgiving season was one entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Will D. Chaney at their pretty bungalow on Broadway.

DEATH FOLLOWS LONG ILLNESS

A large family connection and many friends will learn with sorrow and deep regret of the death of Mrs. Margaret Mallow, which occurred shortly after two o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home on West Temple street.

For some time Mrs. Mallow has suffered from a serious heart trouble which refused to yield to the most expert medical skill.

Mrs. Mallow was born and raised in this county, the daughter of Mr. James Straley of Jeffersonville, and lived out her entire life here except eleven years residence in Columbus. Some years after the death of her husband, the late Benjamin F. Coffman, she married Mr. John Mallow, deceased some years ago.

Seven children of her first marriage survive: Mrs. Byron Dawley, of Toledo; Mrs. L. P. Howell, Mrs. Rell G. Allen, Ben C. Coffman, Mrs. Karl Entreklin, Howard Coffman of Columbus, Mrs. John R. Miller of Chicago, all of whom were with the mother, between whom and her children existed the most devoted affection.

Funeral services will be held not later than Tuesday, although definite arrangements have not yet been made.

"You Never Miss the Gas Till the Well Runs Dry"

The heading of this statement is not an attempt to be clever. It states the truth about the public's attitude toward the most wonderful fuel ever given to man.

The fact is that the supply of Natural Gas IS limited. This limited supply does run out. Experience in territory where Natural Gas was once available has demonstrated that the public WASTED more than two-thirds of the supply.

Once the Natural Gas supply is exhausted the public must turn to other gaseous fuel, which is more expensive than Natural Gas at $2.00 per thousand cubic feet, and less satisfactory regardless of price.

The tendency to waste Natural Gas is directly related to low price. The government and the producing companies have learned this fact beyond any chance of doubt. INCREASED PRICE invariably results in DECREASED WASTE.

To put it another way, it is now definitely known that the consumer can obtain desired results from natural gas service on one-half to one-third of the gas now used. It is to the public's interest that steps be taken to cut down the consumption by stopping WASTE. Why?

Two major reasons for stopping waste stand out. First, the demand for gas is 40 per cent. greater than the available supply in cold weather,—this in spite of the fact that millions of dollars are spent each year on new developments to boost the supply. The demand must be cut down to a point where it does not exceed the supply if the public is to have the service they want from Natural Gas.

In the second place, WASTE means that the day when there will be no more Natural Gas will soon be at hand,—a few years at best. To put it the other way around,—Conservation means that the supply fixed by nature will last many years,—if the public goes at it in earnest.

We repeat, Natural Gas at $2.00 is cheaper than any other gaseous fuel. The public in territory where people did not "miss the gas till the well ran dry," know this because, thro' necessity, it now uses the more expensive, and less-satisfactory fuels.

We shall continue this subject in our next statement.

CONFER DEGREE UPON BIG CLASS ENJOY BANQUET

Thursday afternoon and evening completed the work of taking into Garfield Commandery No. 28, the seventeen candidates who comprised the largest class ever taking the degrees at one time in local Masonic circles.

At two o'clock the work of the third degree, the Order of the Temple was started. Ceremonies of most impressive character consumed the entire afternoon. A number of Past Commanders assisted the active officers very ably in conferring the order.

At six o'clock a delightful three course turkey dinner was served to one hundred men.

Following the banquet the last work of conferring the Order of the Temple was completed.

The brilliant success of the gathering the regular fall meet, is largely due to Past Commanders Frank Christopher, William Holmes, and Eminent Commander P. M. Cook, Sir Knights R. D. Post, John Evans, Ed Bushong, and other Sir Knights of the order.

Many Sir Knights from the neighboring orders were present for the event.

THANKSGIVING WAS UNUSUALLY QUIET

There was not a disturbance of any description in this city Thanksgiving day. The police did not have a call and so far as known there were no cases of drunkenness.

It has usually been the custom on Thanksgiving for one or two persons to celebrate with booze, but cases of this kind were missing, due to no intoxicants being obtainable.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Weak Links in a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying these problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by the use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garage is equipped to give careful, prompt Ford Service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the Authorized Ford dealer for service.
